FLINT'S FINE FURNITURE

"IN PERSIAN MARKETS BOUGHT."

With the opening of fall, rug news is interesting, particularly when it comes from such a mart of rich Oriental textiles as this. We have gathered rugs from all the lands between the Himalayas and the Himalayas. We have gone to the bazaars and to the trading points least frequented by Western buyers and have brought out many specimens of rarest beauty.

This season our "Rugger" has become the scene of a magnificent display of Oriental of incomparable softness and permanence of vegetable dyes, and the Antiques have gained their soft lustre from exposure—not from being dipped in acids. All have the charm that comes from patient handwork, skilled by centuries of training and tradition.

Latest furniture novelties, durable and artistic, at factory prices, as you
